

Truth, Its Source And Validation

If truth exists, it always was and, if it was it is reflected by law its law not causing itself Nature itself teaching laws have a cause have a source Laws containing no life in themselves Laws being standards, representatives bases reflecting larger thought being of necessity the off-spring of life Arising from a life matching or exceeding the laws which arose from its issue If truth exists, then it rests on un-variable law Truth then, being the cause, the source truth being true because source lies in its life If truth is true it always was If laws exist they issue from truth Truth being a life for what fool might think truth is a thing For what thing could be self-caused for absence of life provides nothing If truth be personified, then God always was needing nothing "to be" needing nothing to prove He is or was Yet, in the kindness of His self-existence out of His self-existence causing materials causing truth to live of and beyond Himself causing things to come into being causing creation to live out of His being causing things to live because He is Speaking the universe into existence Forming a man with His own hands Shaping His reflection by love by a love that always was by a love that formed His glory Glory made visible, expressing truth truth that extended His breath truth that lived and matched His life God needing nothing exterior to validate Himself

Needing nothing as one in weakness yet opening truth spreading His source advancing His administration Truth and confirming law preparing His visibility God in completeness yet forward in incarnation In His Son
in His Truth
in His Law of Life
He being the Way and the Life substantiated foundational as the Truth God, being not more true in incarnation yet using humanity wonderfully to validate His divinity Demonstrating His willfulness toward His creation Illustrating a self-caused yearning to unfold, to materialize to expand, to express To develop the multiplicity of His singularity The church being the maximum entity the deposit and expression and expansion
The explainer and visibility of His heart His love based on His truth and His law of life
The only begotten Son, then being not the cause but the expression of what always was Yet, in the complexity of divinity Expressing in the simplicity of humanity Validating the unseen in flesh and blood Verifying in touching and seeing and hearing Humanity soaked with the law of life certifying truth and laws of truth making tangible in a man, in His body Demonstrative features of invisible truth not more authentic when seen not less true when not evident to all But the present eternal certainties of His being true of His being on display calculable, verifiable

Affirmed even by principalities and powers by vessels of rebellion and unbelief Truth having become observable Truth with flesh and blood and clothing Humanity ascertaining eons of truth Unseen ages attested and tested packaged in dust that breathes what He is The Son, the sons, the church one, yet all all in One and One in all Unveiling and extending the intent of the hidden mysterious universe as a franchised composite of what He as truth is Multiplied, simplified, tangible and precious verified, validated appreciated and loved Truth as a Life extended and realized processed by experience formed and expressed and applied modeled in uplifted godly humanity Humanity becoming its possession Humanity the possessor and portrait of divinity Truth in its deepest mystery compacted and glorified in every dimension by those who believe and receive and taste Truth, made accessible progressively through incremental decisive, developmental motions of the Godhead God, truth and the law of life passing with and into His creation His sons embodying and expressing the unseen Truth, the tangible, pneumatic applicable validation in humanity Of all that is of value of all that is sought and desired In all of the universe in all of time in all the earth.
